Introductory event for Bachelor’s and Master’s first semester students at the start of studies

On Thursday, 21 October, an introductory meeting for first-year students will take place at 2:00 pm in the lecture hall 2R4 on the Max Planck Campus in Stuttgart-Büsau (Heisenbergstraße 3). First semester students of the Bachelor and Master in Materials Science as well as the Student Representatives are invited to the introductory event.

In the introductory event, the professors of the Institute of Materials Science (IMW) and the Institute of Polymer Chemistry (IPOC) will introduce themselves. There will be an insight into the research activities and teaching of the departments involved. After the introductory event, there will be the opportunity to get to know each other in personal conversations.

The Max Planck Campus is located in the Büsnau district not far from the Vaihingen University Campus (The Institute for Material Science on the Max Planck Campus is located at Heisenbergstraße 3). The Max Planck Campus can be reached by public transport via the Max Planck Institute stop.

Below are directions to the entrance of the Institute of Materials Science at Heisenbergstraße 3:

Figure: Aerial view of the Max Planck Campus in Stuttgart Büsnau